About fifty names of Pass citizens are attached to the contract, inviting the Chautauqua for 1918.

R. O. Allison, of Pincher Creek, is advertising for a school girl. Why don't Mayor Allison get one of his own?

Dr. A. DeMartignov, M.D.C.M., of Frank, has decided to practice at Pincher Creek and opens an office there on September 1st.

The sum of $277 was realized from the Chautauqua at Vulcan for the Red Cross.

Hugh Gunn and family were up from Brockton to attend the Blairmore Chautauqua.

The home of the bachelor lacks one of the modern improvements.

The Methodist District meeting was held at Frank on Tuesday of this week.

Blairmore Chautauqua A Huge Success

Blairmore's big Chautauqua week is over, and has no doubt left with the endorsement of all who had the privilege of attending. For a time prior to the opening day many people, right from the town's leading knocker to our greatest optimist, doubted somewhat as to the outcome of the venture that had been introduced by some thirty-odd signatories, but from beginning to end these opinions had reason to be changed so that today the only groucho or fault finders are those who missed seeing or hearing every performance.

Chautauqua opened on Friday last, when the Junior Chautauqua was organized under the superintendence of Miss Briggs, an experienced trainer, followed in the afternoon by a most pleasing vocal and instrumental entertainment by the Treble Clef Club and a lecture on "The Art of Happiness" by the genial Chautauqua superintendant, Miss Noë B. Crites. In the evening a large audience was entertained by the Treble Clef Club and that famous humorist, S. Platt Jones.

The principal features on Saturday were the lectures by J. Sherman Wallace and J. C. Herberman, both of which were brimful of interest and eloquence. Many of the ideas voiced by Mr. Herberman in his popular lecture on "Community Building" might well be practiced in our community life.

Marion Ballou, Fisk in "Kewer Characters I have known," on Monday evening was one of the most pleasing numbers of the week. Mrs. Fisk enjoys the distinction of being not only the leading lady cartoonist, but also that her scenic character pictures rank with those of the world's greatest crayon artists. Moron Olson's dramatic reading was indeed pleasing.

Tuesday's programme was heartily received. In the afternoon the Chautauqua orchestra gave a concert, followed by a lecture on "Stories From the Trenches" by Ada L. Ward, otherwise known as Mrs. Grisson, a distinguished English artist and war lecturer. For the first time in their lives many people were brought into direct touch with the lives of our soldiers. The evening's performance contained one of the rarest treats of the week, the singing by Miss Olive McCormick. Such a musical treat comes rarely in the lives of any of us, and the beautiful singing and winning personality of Miss McCormick endeared her to her audience. Miss McCormick is possessed of a rare gift and she has the capability of using it to the very best advantage.

Miss Hazel Byram and Miss Ruth Hill were the musicians on Wednesday afternoon and evening. In the afternoon Francis Labadie recited from the works of Drummond and Service. In the evening the audience heard what was perhaps the best lecture of the week, "The Reign of the Common People," by Capt. W. J. Hindley, ex-mayor of Spokane and ex-pastor of one of the largest Congregational churches in the Dominion.

On Thursday afternoon the programme was opened by a grand "pageant of all nations," given by over one hundred junior Chautauquans. Miss Briggs deserves the highest praise for her work, and the entertainment given by the little ones after but a week's training was a high compliment to her ability. The Waikiki Hawaiian quintette gave a concert prelude, followed by Dr. Carpenter's interesting lecture on "Worlds in the making." So interested were some people in Dr. Carpenter's talk that

Daring Breach of Fishery Regulations

Jack Morrison, game and fire warden in the South Fork district, has notified Supervisor Brown, of Coleman, that some unknown individuals had recently made use of dynamite to get fish from the big canyon near the Mushfelt ranch, and that large numbers of dead fish have been seen floating down the stream.

Bull and rainbow trout of very large variety frequent this canyon, which is a very difficult place of access for the angler, and it is a great pity that wanton destruction should continue and the guilty parties escape justice.

Every year about this time, evidence of dynamite having been used has presented itself, but so far the culprits have escaped.

New Elko Copper Company Promoted

J. L. Parker, of Lee Lake, has taken over the big copper mine at Elko, B.C., in which the following are also interested: P. Burns, packer, Calgary; A. E. Cross, brewer, Calgary; J. W. Davidson, capitalist, Calgary; E. H. Goodwin, capitalist, Calgary; Lieut. Governor R. G. Brett, Edmonton; Major Harold Daly, Ottawa; Dr. Galbraith, Lethbridge; George Kelloway, Calgary. The new company are very optimistic over their new venture. The ore runs at 6 to 7 per cent copper, and after paying for smelting and railway charges will net the owner 22 per cent.

The mine has shipped three hundred and fifty tons of ore lately, running the above values, and a contract has been let to haul the ore and landing same into railway cars at a rate of $1.35 per ton. It is expected that about 200 tons per month will be shipped to start with, which will be increased gradually to 1,200 tons per month. At present a tunnel is being driven two hundred feet below the old tunnel where they expect to strike the vein in about thirty feet, and as soon as the two tunnels can be connected ore will be shipped at the rate of forty tons per day.

Arrangements are being made to build a gravity tram, 1,250 feet long, and to have it in operation in two months' time.

Central Union Church

Service on Sunday, morning at 11.30, evening at 7.30.

Sunday School meets at 10.30 a.m.

JAMES FULTON, Pastor.

Some people have weak eyes just because they are located in a weak place.

next morning they came back telling us of life in the clouds.

The largest audience of the week was that of last night, when about one thousand people thronged the big tent to greet the Hawaiian quintette, and on this occasion, as on all others, none were disappointed. The playing of the leader of the quintette on the steel guitar was a wonderful interpretation of Hawaiian music, and the enthusiasm of the audience rose to a great height as they recalled him again and again.

Towards the close, Mr. W. Shaw, as chairman of the local committee, made a fitting speech, in which he voiced the appreciation of the people of The Pass in their first Chautauqua and the hope for a return visit next year.

New Granaries Map

In these war days, when the question of the Canadian grain supply is so much in the public mind, when the Western crop has become a vital factor in the national life of Canada and a rigid supervision is being exercised by the Dominion Government over the disposal of our wheat; it is perhaps important that the extent and location of the many granaries of the Prairie Provinces should be thoroughly known and appreciated by the general public as well as to those more directly interested.

A new edition of an official publication of the Government, which will tend to effect this purpose has just been issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa. This consists of a map of the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta showing the position of each city or town containing one or more grain elevators.

The three great transcontinental railways the Canadian Pacific Railway, Grand Trunk Pacific Railway and the Canadian Northern Railway, are indicated by blue, red and green lines, respectively, while under the name of each point, the extent of its elevator capacity is given in bushels. It is a most timely and useful publication and copies may be obtained gratis, on application to The Supertendent, Natural Resources Intelligence Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

Anglican Church

Service on Sunday will be at 11 a.m., conducted by the Rev. H. Clay. The subject of the address will be "Our Need of Grace and How to Obtain It."

Disasters That Befel Three Delinquent Subscribers

One said: "I will pay on Saturday night I'll live." He's dead.

Another said: "I will see you tomorrow." He's blind.

And another said: "I hope to pay this week, or go to Hades." He's gone.

Chautauqua has come and gone, and those who had the privilege of attending and listening to the role of talent have no reason to regret the first appearance of this institution. From the opening to the closing programme every character was of the best, and the benefit derived socially, educationally and otherwise cannot be estimated. Of the patrons, every person had become an optimist long before the closing day, and lessons imparted will no doubt have lasting effect with the people of this community and district. So pleased were the public with the performances that a contract was signed up on Wednesday for a return of Chautauqua in 1918.

No Kickers There

We hope to go to the realms above when we lie down to die, we hope the choirs all clad in white will greet our wondering eyes; we know that we'd be filled with joy in regions free from care, for angels tell us in our sleep there are no kickers there. Though rugged as the Jasper pave, no soul shall move complain, though sunlight shine the ages through, no spirit call for rain; though crowns be half a shetoo small, no monarch tear their hair, and all in joy above because there are no kickers there. Their music may be out of time, no one will hold his ears; the robe may not be tailor-made, there'll be no many, and tears the sandals may be often worn, hence ask a better pair; for glory in the Lord of Hosts there are no kickers there.
And when the Heavenly council calls for paying on the streets, the man who gets the contract may work onward swift and fleet; no spirit will injunctious bring, nor cranks nor croakers, ever, the realms above are free from clumps—there are no kickers there. Then take us from this veil of tears where cranks come to the front, where men who never work at all will lie around and grumble, we long to wear celestial robes and climb the golden stair; for well we know that in those lands, there are no kickers there.

The Newspaper End

The average newspaper man enjoys a yearly diet of hay, according to the views held by the business end of a newspaper, so that the food restrictions will but very lightly affect the Newspaper End. It is anyhow, however, no matter how loyal one may be, that after saving and squeezing for six months and finally gathering together the necessary pence to participate in the funeral of a T bone steak, to have the grinning waiter of a hash joint, inform us, that there is "Nothing doing in the meat line."

One reporter on The Albertan purchased a steak last December with the result that his principal topic of conversation is how the rich juicy gravy ran out of the corner of his mouth. One must not gather from the foregoing that the newspaper men are not proving themselves to be loyal patriots by eschewing the beef. No doubt many could purchase a hair from the decrepit cow the steak comes from, but at 40 cents a pound or $1.10 a throw in an eating house it is far healthier to subsist on a "vegetarian diet." Since writing the above the medical health officer's report has been received and one's loyalty on the consumption of food basis has received a severe jolt for that gentleman informs us that eggs, poultry and heat producing food should be eliminated, which drives us back to the hay diet.

Now one can only dream of the days of luxury, of real sport, when hot dogs and a glass of beer were indulged in by "the newspaper end."—Calgary Albertan.

Miss Elvira Levasseur, of Pincher Creek, spent a few days with friends in Blairmore.

Mr. and Mrs. James Patterson have received word, stating that their two sons, George and Robert, had crossed over to France. They now have five stalwart boys in the British line.

Our Latest Ally

The latest power to array itself against the war-lord of Europe and his subservient allies is the little kingdom of Siam.
The Kaiser will have to search his vocabulary for words strong enough to express his contempt for his new enemy in the east. But Siam is not by any means a power to be disposed of by a contemptuous or an affected air of unconcern. It has an arm about equal to that of France and a population exceeding that of the Dominion of Canada, by fully a million.
Its king, while the most absolute monarch on earth, is a man of democratic spirit, devoted to his people, and adored by his subjects. He is a graduate of Oxford University and has studied in France and Germany. When but a child he came under Christian teaching, influence which have told powerfully on his character and life. He has now declared war against Germany and Austria to "uphold the sanctity of international fights against nations showing contempt for the principles of humanity and respect for small states." All Germans and Austrians residing in Siam have been arrested and their places of business have been closed. Also nine German steamers aggregating 19,000 tons, lying at anchor within Siamese waters, have been seized and their cargo confiscated. Thus the entry of Siam into the war not only inflicts new losses upon the Central Powers but shuts them out of another shelter for their naval operations in the east. How are the mighty fallen, when little Siam can insult and defy the proud autocrat of Europe with impunity!

The Chautauqua

The following verses were written by D. H. Egan, the popular city magistrate of Lethbridge:

I know now what Chautauqua means,
I did not know before,
That word stuck in my "palate,"
And I "cheered" it o'er and o'er.
To "manicure" was not my fate,
"Digest" was out of question Until Chautauqua came to town.

Chautauqua means an annual "feast,"
Of good things, rich and rare—
A "festive board" from life's great
A "bill of fare."

The most fastidious appetite
Can be appeased with ease,
No course upon the "menu" card,
But what is bound to please.

Laughter, until you ache with joy,
And merriment and wit unite—
"Reckling hearts" delight—
Expand your chest with welcome jest
And banish care-worn frowns—
No tonic like Chautauqua night
To build up weary tissues.

There's intellectual treat and "sweets," Co-mingled with the "spices" of There's serious flights and lofty heights
Mixed with your "tea and ices,"
Mind, heart and soul as one great whole
Is tuned, toned and enlightened—
With dance and play and merriment
Chautauqua week is lightened.

I take it from me, I've been to see,
I've got the proper "dope,"
I do not prate or speculate
On what I merely hope.
For young and old, for mind and soul
Verbose or quite laconic—
Humanity in each degree
Should get Chautauqua tonic.

"The Kid Has Gone To The Colors"

The patriotism and pathos of this poem, which is one of the best of the American poetry of the present war, will find a response in many a home where the boy has answered the call and is "changed by the flag to a man."

The Kid has gone to the Colors
And we don't know what to say;
The Kid we have loved and cuddled
Stepped out for the flag today.

We thought him a child, a baby,
With never a care at all;
But his country called him man-at-arms—
And the Kid has heard the call.
He paused to watch the recruiting,
Where, fired by the life and drum,
He bowed his head to Old Glory —And thought that it whispered "Come!"

The Kid's not being a slacker,
Stood forth with patriot-joy
But now he's a man, a soldier,
Ald, God! we're proud of the boy!

The Kid has gone to the Colors;
It seems but a little while
Since he drilled a schoolboy army
In a truly martial style.

But now he's a man, a soldier,
And we lend him a listening ear;
For his heart is a heart all loyal,
Unscourged by the curse of fear.

He said, when he told him, shuddered
His mother—God bless her!—cried;
Yet, blest with a mother nature,
She wept with a mother pride.

But he whose old shoulders straightened Was granddaddy for memory ran
By years when he, too, a youngster,
Was changed by the flag to a man!
—W. M. Herschell.

KNIGHTED
by the King

in the musical centers of the Old World and The New—one of the great tenors of all times—Zenatello has delighted thousands with his "voice of golden tone, prodigal in its expenditure, yet responsive to every emotional shade." Zenatello is the leading tenor of the Boston National Grand Opera Company.

In the above picture, this great artist is singing in direct comparison with musical critics say that the New Edison Re-Creation of the voice is indistinguishable from the original.

Is your musical ear keener, truer than Zenatello's?

Narrow Shave for

S. Alberta Clergy

Messrs. Hardy and Smith, late of Foremost and Lundbeck respectively had something of a thrill recently. They sailed from Montreal in the M— and when nearing the English coast, according to Mr. Hardy's later, a torpedo was observed tearing through the water straight for the ship. Whether the submarine was visible or not is not informed. Fortunately the chief officer, seeing the monster of destruction in time, quickly took the wheel himself with this result that the ship veered round and the torpedo passed across the wash of the vessel under the log rope. The voyagers heard later by wireless that another large ship had been torpedoed that same afternoon but hoped to keep aloof. —Bow Island Review.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Hodgson, a daughter.

Mr. McEwen recently received a letter from Kenneth McLean, stating that he had been wounded, but is well now and has a job at the base and does not expect to return to the trenches again.

We regret to say that R. P. Paul is laid up in the Lethbridge hospital, very seriously ill with abscess of the brain. We learn that he withstood an operation and there is a faint hope for his recovery. Mrs. Paul and their daughter, Mrs. Tupper, are with him, anxiously awaiting the turning point, which we sincerely hope will be for the better.

Rev. W. M. Chalmers, B.A., being in poor health and thinking a change would do him good, has accepted a call to Manitoba and will be with us only two more short weeks. He will deliver his farewell sermon on the 26th of August. Both Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers will be sorely missed, as both have been earnest workers, and as their one ambition has been with the hearts of the people, the vacancy will be hard to fill. Mr. Chalmers has not only filled the pulpitably, but has taken a keen interest in all affairs that went to build and uplift. He has always been ready to lend a helping hand wherever needed, while his sympathy and cheerfulness could brighten the most downhearted. It is his good nature and social ability that has won for him a host of friends, who will greatly miss him; but what is our loss will be the gain of others in his new field of labor, and though absent from us in person, his influence will long be felt here.

Vimy Ridge

The following poem was written by a volunteer from Red Deer, who is serving at the front:

Vimy Ridge, we'll never forget it,
We've fought the blood red field.
Where our soldiers fought so bravely Fought, Britania's flag to shield.
Brave fellows fell, in death victorious,
Some were aging, some were young.
Never one but made the sacrifice
To keep the Union Jack far flung.
Bright young laddies, just from High School,
Men, with life's course in the prime,
Yet they left their homes and loved ones,
To join the glorious "Allied" line.

How the shrapnel rained upon them,
How the bullets sped fast death.
Still they carried on, victorious,
Still they fought with dying breath.
How the horrid shells came shrieking,
Ripped and tore the very earth.
Whirled round our gallant laddies
As if they mocked and laughed in mirth.

Soldiers saw their comrades shattered,
Saw them blown to bits;
Numbering up the heavy toll,
The toll they soon would ask of Fritz.
Soldiers saw their comrades shattered,
Comrades that they loved so well;
Saw them give their life so freely

In that soothing surging hell.
Still they kept up smiling faces,
Died, scarce knowing they were hit.
Cheerfully they gave their greatest,
Determined sure "to do their bit."

Terrible the field of battle,
Terrible the gory slain,
Dying, wounded, all around them,
But they fought and fought again.

That was where the brave Canadians
Made the sacrifice again,
Though it cost them, eye so dearly,
We know it was not in vain.
Vimy Ridge? yes, we remember,
Its echoes roll from sea to sea.
One more column deeply rooted,
At the door of victory.

The province of Alberta has thus far this year issued 17,700 automobile licenses. In the year 1916 the number issued was 9,703, and in 1906 on 41.

Some young men would get along better if they had less point to their shoes and a little more in their conversation.

J. Kemmis and family were up from Cowley yesterday to attend the Chautauqua and incidentally spend a day with Pass friends.

The six-year-old daughter and four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Chester, of Lashburn, Sask., died from taking gopher poison.

J. C. Herbsman must be a super-human being, for he really found words to describe all the infernal qualities of the chronic knacker.

Rev. Salem Bland, the lately deposed professor of Wesley College, will be tendered the Liberal nomination in one of the Winnipeg ridings.

Renovations and changes to the Alberta hotel are about complete and Mr. Howe is now able to cater to the wants of the travelling public and the local trade.

Following Tuesday evening's Chautauqua meeting, Misses Ada Ward, Olive McCormick, Nola Crites, L. Briggs, and the Messrs. Witkiewski, together with a number of local people were entertained at the home of Mr. J. Charbonnier.

Details of the Food
Regulations Announced

Ottawa, August 15.—An extract issue of the Canada Gazette, bringing into effect the order-in-council regulating food places, was published today.

The order-in-council, passed at the request of the food controller, prohibits the serving of food and liquor on Tuesday and Friday, and at more than one meal on any other day. Substitutes such as corn bread, oat cakes, potatoes, etc., must be provided at every meal at which white bread is served. The use of meat in the distillation or manufacture of alcohol is prohibited, except for manufacturing or munition purposes, and then only after obtaining a license from the food controller.

Heavy penalties are provided for violation of the regulations. Proprietors, managers and employees of public eating places are liable under summary conviction, for the first offense, to a penalty not exceeding $100 and not less than $25 and for each subsequent offense to a penalty not exceeding $500 and not less than $100, or to imprisonment for any term not exceeding three months, or to both fine and imprisonment.

Any person violating any of the provisions regulating the use of wheat in the distillation or manufacture of alcohol is liable under summary conviction to a penalty not exceeding $5,000.

Samuel Jensen is suffering from an injured foot caused by a lump of coal falling thereon. Had Sam known that the lump of coal was going to hit his foot he would have moved that very useful membrane, so he says.

The marriage of Charles Robertson Mitchell and Miss Ruth Gilbert Gilgilliam took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Smith, Calgary, last week. After a honeymoon spent in the mountains, the happy couple will reside at Macerott.

All high-school candidates from Principal Pearson's room were successful in passing the departmental examinations, as follows:

Grade IX—Rhoda McLaren, Ola May McLaren, Harry Melville Hunter, Joseph H. Bond, Helen Robbins.

Grade X—Grace Mary Robbins, Hugh MacDonald.

Grade XI—Jewel MacDonald, Blanche Pinkney.

Who was the young man who was seen on the highway between Blairmore and Coleman on Monday night trying to steer the car with one hand, but apparently busy with the other, on which the moon shone brightly? You can't very well manage two "cranks" that way, but from what we noticed we think there had been a lot of practice. Anyway, the other occupant of the front seat did not seem to mind, and the other passenger in the back seat made good of her time star-gazing. Ah, shocks!

Britain and her Allies need 160,000,000 bushels of wheat more than there is available for export from the two countries to whom they look for supplies—Canada and the United States—according to a statement by Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canada's Food Controller, and this is calculated on the decreased scale of consumption already practiced in Great Britain. To make up this shortage, the people of Canada and the United States are organizing to substitute other foods and reduce consumption of flour foods by one-sixth. Household scientists say it can be done without loss of health or comfort.

Two bears have been recently shot in the streets of the town of Canmore. Canmore is in the national park, and as a consequence, there are such restrictions on the killing of Bruin that he has grown so numerous as to become an actual menace to the community. It is an uncommon thing for the residents of the little mining town to meet bears on the streets at night, and the animal has become such a menace to the safety of children, that the youngsters are not allowed out of the sight of mothers, and fathers at any time, for fear that Bruin will come and make off with the little ones. Recently a resident of Canmore went down town. When he returned to his habitation he found a bear inside. The animal had overturned the chairs and table and was helping himself to the food. Another similar incident occurred with the barber's wife. She rushed into her husband's shop with baby in her arms and reported that a big black bear had come to the house and attempted to force an entrance.—Ex-

Mr. and Mrs. Ruthven McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herbsman and Misses Crites and Briggs were guests of Messrs. Charbonnier and Smith and party on an auto trip to Waterton Lakes on Sunday last.

Five hundred Odd-fellows attended the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge of the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland held at North Sydney recently. The sessions were held under canvas and were the most interesting and successful ever held in Eastern Canada.

One of the many bachelor boys of the surrounding district was seen with a very sorrowful countenance. Upon enquiry we found that the cause of his sorrow and despair was that he was looking for a wife and was having a hard time making the grade. Keep on trying old pal. Remember King Bruce and the spider. Let us know when you land the prize for we want to hear those bells again. If we see any more walking around like that we shall have to start a matrimonial bureau with "Dad" as Chief Scout. Yep, and then go 50-50 with the minister.

Canada and the United States must cut down their normal wheat consumption by 160,000,000 bushels to meet the needs of Great Britain and the Allies. Hon. W. J. Hanna, Canadian Food Controller, estimates that to feed Great Britain, France, and the other Allies, the men at the front, will require 1,105,000,000 bushels of wheat. This means at least 450,000,000 will have to be imported from Canada and the United States. There will be under normal consumption in these two countries only 300,000,000 bushels surplus for export, and so by special efforts of food conservation the people of United States and Canada will have to make up a shortage of 180,000,000 bushels.
